Kennedy Wins Labor Over to Johnson

By G. MILTON KELLY
HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, president of the politically powerful United Auto Workers Union, said today Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson has won the right to have organized labor's support for election as vice president.

Reuther spoke out after a talk with Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, who smiled widely at Reuther's words.

They stood side by side on the lawn of Kennedy's summer home to address a news conference.

Reuther had been one of the earlier Kennedy-for-President supporters. Friends, however, said Reuther, like some other labor leaders, was dismayed when Kennedy chose Johnson.

Asked whether he always had considered Johnson an "excellent" candidate as he described him today, Reuther parried: "In conventions and contests people have preferences."

He said he can speak only for himself but he believes organized labor "will make clear shortly" its support of the Democratic ticket's "two excellent candidates."

A reporter told Kennedy that Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, has stated that Kennedy "paid the price for labor's support."

"I wonder what he meant?" Kennedy said.

Reuther at this point said he'd like to comment that "the American labor movement is going to work hard for this ticket—we're going to support Kennedy and Johnson. Sen. Kennedy is supporting the things America needs. He hasn't had to pay a price."

Gov. Michael V. Di Salle of Ohio was expected here later today.

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy had a heavy date today with Walter P. Reuther, president of the politically potent United Auto Workers Union.

Reuther was among the early Kennedy-for-President forces. But friends described him as having just about "hit the ceiling" when Kennedy chose Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas as a running mate.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Reuther's home state of Michigan, who also had looked sourly at the choice of Johnson, told Kennedy Tuesday the Texan now is "most acceptable" to Democrats in that state.

Kennedy headquarters said the short notice meeting between the presidential nominee and his long-tenured labor chief friend was arranged at Kennedy's invitation, mainly to discuss unemployment in the automobile industry.

It provides an opportunity, however, for Reuther to speak out on political matters if he chooses. Gov. Michael V. Di Salle of Ohio and a half-dozen of Kennedy's advisers were expected later, for separate talks with the senator on a variety of subjects.

Wednesday Kennedy switches to talks on farm problems, planning meetings with Gov. Herschel Loveless of Iowa, whom many regard as a likely choice for secretary of agriculture if Kennedy wins the Nov. 8 election.

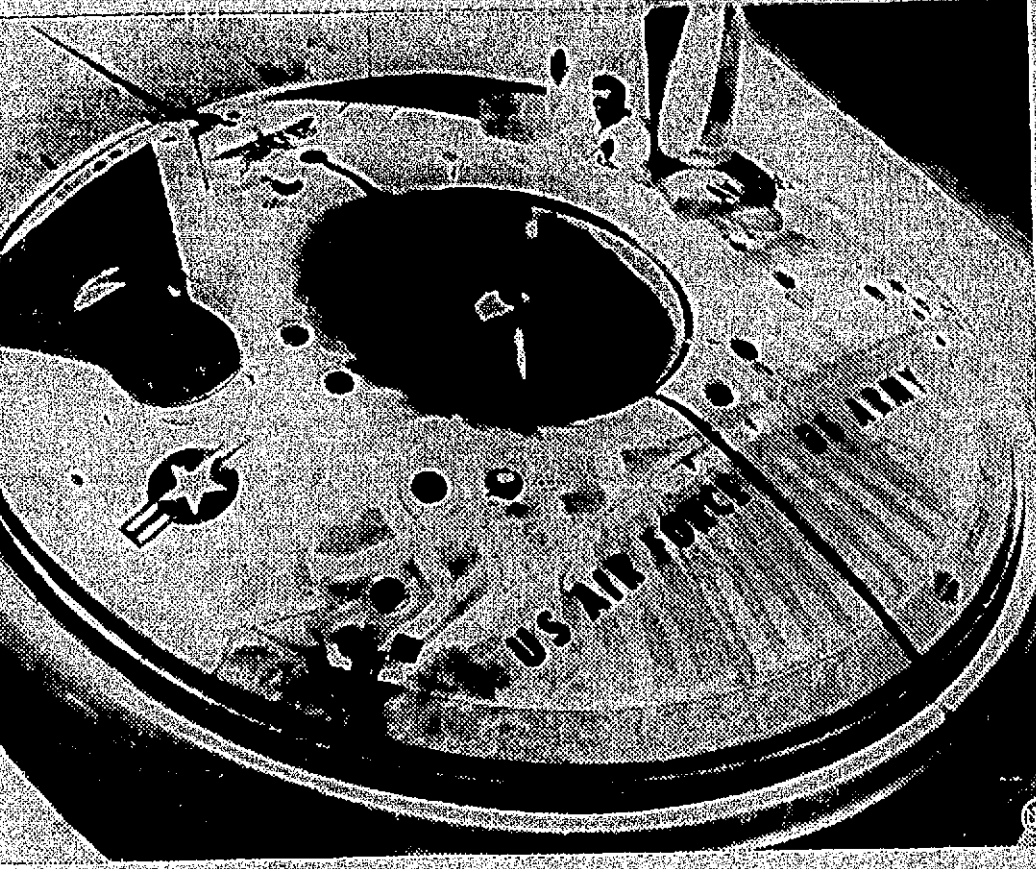

This is Kennedy's third and final week of a work-rest stay at his summer home. He will fly back to Washington Sunday night, plunge into the turmoil of the resuming congress session.

Public Works Bill Faces Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the biggest unfinished jobs facing the returning Congress is action on a bill that would provide about four billion dollars for various federal public works agencies in the year that started July 1.

The measure—the public works appropriation bill, and referred to also at times as the water projects appropriation bill—was passed by the House May 25 and approved by the Senate Appropriations Committee June 20.

The next action will be by the Senate itself, which reconvenes Aug. 8. After the Senate acts, the measure will be returned to the House, which returns August 15.

A bill to authorize construction at some future date of about 130 water projects and involving a cost of approximately $1,400,000,000 was signed by President Eisenhower on July 14. That measure only authorizes the work. It provides no money.

The public works appropriation bill, as approved by the Senate Appropriations Committee, would provide a total of $4,030,010,605 to finance work on a wide assortment of projects in the fiscal year which began July 1 and ends June 30, 1961.

The amount is slightly higher than President Eisenhower's budget recommendations of $4,004,141,180 and about 15 million dollars more than the $3,914,798,985 voted by the House.

The measure would provide $2,675,960,000 for the Atomic Energy Commission, $973,963,400 for Army Engineers; $202,559,025 for the Reclamation Bureau; $29,570,000 for the Bonneville Power Administration; $20,520,000 for the Tennessee Valley Authority; $900,000 for the Southeastern Power Administration and $2,575,000 for the Southwestern Power Administration.

The bulk of funds for Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau is for planning, constructing and maintaining various types of water projects such as flood control, navigation, beach erosion, power and reclamation projects.

Projects contained in the bill as approved by the senate committee, with the house-approved amount in parentheses, include:

Arkansas: construction—Emergence bank stabilization, Ark., $5,000,000 ($5,000,000); Oklahoma: bank stabilization, general, $4,000,000 ($4,000,000); McKinney Bayou and Barkman Creek, Ark., and Tex., $608,000 ($608,000); Red River levees below Denison, Dam, Ark., La., and Tex., $700,000 ($700,000); Beaver Reservoir, $2,300,000 ($2,300,000); Bull Shoals power units, $3,300,000 ($3,300,000); Dardanelle Lock and Dam $6,100,000 ($6,100,000); Greers Ferry reservoir $14,143,000 ($14,143,000); Table Rock Reservoir $600,000 ($600,000); Millwood Reservoir $500,000 ($500,000); Garland City $20,000 ($20,000).

Planning—Arkansas River, general study $381,000 ($381,000); Gilliam Reservoir $100,000 ($100,000); DeGray Reservoir $300,000 ($300,000); Arkansas River lock and dam, Ark., and Okla. $200,000 ($200,000); Ouachita and Black River navigation channel $150,000 ($150,000).

Two Hurt in Accident Near Hope

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Warren of near Hope were injured last night in collision on Highway 67, east near Perry's Truck Stop.

Deputy Sheriff Herbert Griffin said: "A truck driven by Vernon Redmon of Jefferson Town, Kentucky was attempting to pass the Warren vehicle which was in process of turning off the highway. The collision rolled the big truck across Highway 67 and traffic was partially blocked for about 1 1/2 hours."

The Warrens were brought to a local hospital by an Oakcrest ambulance where they were treated for cuts and bruises and released. Deputy Griffin said Redmon was charged with hazardous driving.

Plans Made for Missile Base

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Construction of a Titan missile launching site near Little Rock will be supervised by the newly-formed Ballistic Missile Construction Office of the Army Engineers.

Col. Arthur M. Jacoby, Little Rock district engineer, said yesterday his office would proceed with planning until the new unit, which went into operation Monday, is ready to take over. It will direct construction of all Atlas, Titan and Minuteman missile bases.

The Titan sites will be built around Little Rock Air Force Base. The first million dollars for construction to start early next year, was released this week.

Jacoby said no date has been set for the new Engineer unit to take over construction supervision.

Woman Editor Resigns Post

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Mrs. Reba Wilcox has resigned as editor of the Arkansas Alumnae magazine, citing a proposed reorganization which would give her a different supervisor.

Mrs. Wilcox, editor of the Alumnae since 1957, said she resigned effective Monday because of the proposed Alumnae Assn. reorganization. It would put the magazine under the alumni secretary rather than the University's information director.

The Alumnae Assn. is seeking a new editor.

Hopeful That Congress Will Buckle Down

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) said today he hopes the Senate will keep political grandstanding to a minimum and buckle down to serious work when it meets again Monday.

Case said most senators already have had "a glorious opportunity to let off steam" at the Los Angeles and Chicago political conventions.

Another call for serious Senate action came Tuesday night from Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.). He asked for major changes in Senate rules to open the way for a "hundred days" of action next year on Democratic proposals.

Clark said that during the post-convention session he will introduce rules changes to eliminate the filibuster, prevent time-wasting on irrelevant speeches and strip committee chairmen of much of their power to bottle up bills.

Clark's proposals obviously were too sweeping for a short session to handle. The House does not meet again until Aug. 15. Party leaders hope to wrap up the session by Labor Day.

Like Clark, Case aimed some of his fire at legislative logjams in committees.

"The House Rules Committee, dominated by Southern congressmen, has become the 'graveyard' of much needed legislation," Case said in a report to his New Jersey constituents. He said it has long blocked school aid, housing and other legislation.

Probe Started of 'Copter Crash

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency said today it has ordered emergency inspections of the main rotor lifting blades of Sikorsky S58 helicopters as the result of a crash in which 13 persons were killed.

Blades which have been in service for more than 1,400 hours must be replaced, FAA decreed. An FAA spokesman emphasized that the agency is not identifying the rotor blades as the cause of the accident in Chicago July 27. It is the responsibility of the Civil Aeronautics Board to determine the cause.

Nixon Journeys to Hawaii to Open Drive

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
LOS ANGELES (AP)—A shipper's bright-eyed Richard M. Nixon flew off into a black pre-dawn today to open his presidential campaign in Hawaii.

After posing for photographers at the airport, the vice president and his wife, Pat, climbed aboard the airliner.

The Republican presidential nominee and Mrs. Nixon boarded their chartered plane before dawn for a history-making political trip to the mid-Pacific islands that make up the 50th state.

Nixon, due to land in Honolulu at 11:30 a.m.—11:30 p.m. EST—will be the first presidential candidate to seek votes in Hawaii, Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic contender, plans to visit Hawaii and Alaska around September.

At the end of the first day of his busy campaign tour to the West Coast and Hawaii, Nixon accorded a returning hero's welcome at Whittier College, his alma mater. It was his third election year homecoming to the college in his home town, 20 miles from Los Angeles.

Hundreds of townspeople applauded as Nixon's motorcade went by, and a crowd of at least 10,000 packed the little stadium where Nixon played on Whittier's football squad as a substitute tackle.

In his speech Nixon said that "keeping the peace without surrendering principle" is the foremost responsibility of a president. The Eisenhower administration, he said, is keeping America strong, not because it wants war, but because "we know this is the way to avoid war."

He held to a policy of firmness without engaging in a war of words in dealing with nations that threaten the peace. He also said the United States wants "the fact of disarmament instead of the fiction of it," which he said the Soviets have been composing.

Nixon tied in Kennedy and the Democratic platform with union leaders at a news conference after landing in Los Angeles.

Before leaving Washington, he had said Kennedy was taking the "low road" in statements attacking the vice president's disavowal of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's policies.

In answer to a new conference question, Nixon said he would stick to the "high road," if by use of that term a reporter meant arguing the issues and avoiding personalities.

Later, he said he was not surprised that labor leaders were assembling behind Kennedy. The Massachusetts senator paid the price, he said, with the party's platform. Union leaders have praised that platform.

"I will not pay that price," Nixon said.

South to Find Very Little Difference in Rights Plank of Either Political Party

The Great Issues: Civil Rights
Editor's Note — The Democrats adopted a strong civil rights plank and the one big fight in the Republican National Convention was over following suit. The subject is certain to figure prominently in the campaign. The following article, another in a series on the major issues, examines the candidates' civil rights stand.

By JAMES MARLOW AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the stoniest Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy throw at each other in the presidential campaign will be scooped up out of the battle-torn field of civil rights.

By the yardstick of the militant National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People both presidential candidates have racked up excellent records on civil rights in their 14 years apiece in Congress.

Such imperfections as exist in their records—at least in the eyes of all-out civil rights advocates—may sound like hair-splitting if the two candidates get into a shouting match on each other's civil rights performance.

Thus Negroes in the northern cities won't have much to choose between the two men on that issue. By the same token, neither will white Southerners who have long fought forceful civil rights legislation.

While the two men, Kennedy heading the Democratic ticket and Nixon in the Republicans' No. 1 spot, no doubt will spend some time trying to make each other look inferior on civil rights, they will probably spend more time talking about:

1. Details in the Democratic and Republican platform planks on civil rights, although both planks this year are the strongest in the history of either party. (The NAACP says the Democratic plank is the stronger of the two, but adds that the areas of agreement are much more significant than the differences.)

2. On the civil rights performance of both parties over the years and what civil rights advocates can expect if (a) the Democrats win and if (b) the Republicans do.

There is a deep irony in this campaign in which the two main candidates have outstanding civil rights records and both parties have come further than ever before with civil rights promises.

With other things being pretty equal—in the candidates' records and the parties' promises—some sophisticated leaders of the civil rights fight, both Negroes and whites, may fall back on traditional reasoning.

That is, that a Democratic victory will mean keeping Southern Democratic foes of civil rights in Congress in their key committee.

Premier Says UN Will Have to Fight Way

By ADRIAN PORTER

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A threat of warfare will up today over United Nations plans to move U. N. forces into secessionist Katanga province Saturday.

Premier Mause Tshombe of Katanga announced his government has ordered mobilization of all able-bodied men among the province's 1,250,000 people, and would use force to oppose their entry.

In Leopoldville, a U. N. spokesman declared the force will oust Katanga regardless of the provincial regime's stand.

"Our troops are going into Katanga as planned on Saturday," the U. N. spokesman said.

"The decision to send a U. N. force into Katanga, announced by U. N. Secretary-General Hammarskjöld, represented a major concession to demands of the central Congo government for an immediate end to the secession of the copper-rich province, which supplied 60 per cent of the wealth of the former Belgian colony."

"They will have to fight their way in," Tshombe told newsmen after hearing a broadcast of U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld's announcement that U. N. forces will take over from Belgian soldiers keeping order in this rich mining province in the southeast Congo.

"The Katanga radio broadcast orders for 'all men to report for mobilization,' Tshombe said. He has support of tribal chiefs in the decision to mobilize. He charged that a U. N. entry would constitute aggression."

"Katanga troops will not fire first, and we do not intend any aggression," said Tshombe, whose government has declared Katanga's independence of Premier Patrice Lumumba's central Congo government.

"But if U. N. troops try to land here," Tshombe continued, "that will be an act of aggression and we will oppose it."

Belgian officials in Elisabethville did not take his threat seriously. A fact of military life is he does not have the means to put up any real fight.

"Army recruiting is going on steadily," one of the Belgian officers said, "but new personnel have to be trained and they certainly will not be ready to fight the U. N. troops."

The premier said he had not been officially informed of the decision to send U. N. troops to Katanga, announced in Leopoldville Tuesday night by Hammarskjöld after the Belgian government agreed to pull its troops in Katanga back to their base camp.

Tshombe said he also had no notification from the Belgians of their change of heart.

However, Tshombe said he would welcome the arrival of U. N. Undersecretary Ralph B. Bunche, being sent by Hammarskjöld to Elisabethville Friday to arrange the entry of the U. N. troops. The premier said he wanted to discuss his government's position with Bunche.

The U. N. announcement stunned the white population of Elisabethville, which had returned to normal pursuits under the protection of Belgian troops. But despite earlier talk of a mass flight when U. N. troops were ordered in, there was no sign of any exodus.

Mass departure of the 15,000 Belgian civilians in Katanga would bring a quick shutdown of the province's copper and uranium mines, the Congo's economic mainstay, and would bring Katanga to the same state of economic paralysis now affecting

Cab Driver Jailed for Bomb Scare

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI agents in Reno, Nev., today arrested a taxicab driver on a charge that he falsely reported a bomb had been concealed on Vice President Richard M. Nixon's westward bound campaign plane.

Nixon, Mrs. Nixon and their party are using a United Airlines charter flight on their present trip to Hawaii, which made a stop at Reno Tuesday before departure for Los Angeles.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today disclosed that shortly before the Reno takeoff, a man approached flight personnel and said, "Your airplane is not going out today. I just put a bomb on it."

The man then drove away from the airport in a cab.

The takeoff was delayed slightly to permit a thorough search of the plane and luggage, which disclosed no bomb.

The flight left Reno at 3:21 p.m. (PDT).

Hoover said FBI agents traced the bomb scare to Leonard Dale Sage, 34, who was taken into custody at his home in Reno this morning.

Sage was described as a former professional wrestler under the name of Johnnie Savage.

Orioles Seem to Have Formula for Winning

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Paul Richards' surprising Orioles appear to have hit upon a winning formula which may pay off in the first pennant in Baltimore's brief American League history.

Actually, it's a double-named plan—with the close ones and knock off the top team.

The third-place Birds followed the blueprint to the letter Monday night, defeating the front-running Chicago White Sox 2-1.

It was their 26th victory in 38 one-run decisions this year. It also was their ninth triumph over the White Sox in 16 meetings. No club has a better record in close games and no club has made a better showing against Chicago this year.

New York's runner-up Yankees trimmed Chicago's margin to a half game with a 3-2 triumph over the Detroit Tigers.

Cleveland's fourth-place Indians climbed to within six games of the top with a 3-0 victory over Washington. Kansas City outlasted Boston 10-8 in 10 innings.

There was no action in the National League.

Ton Hansen, a rookie and Gene Woodling, a veteran, collaborated to lead the Orioles to their narrow victory. Hansen opened the seventh with a double and scored the tie-breaking run on Woodling's pinch single.

Mill Pappas, who pitched hitless ball through the last five innings, was credited with his ninth victory. He has lost eight.

Although this White Sox loss, Manager Al Lopez was heartened by the pitching of Herb Score, who went all the way, giving up only seven hits. Better yet he fanned nine and did not walk a batter.

Wise old Casey Stengel masterminded another victory for the Yankees. In the seventh inning, against Detroit he called upon southpaw Luis Arroyo to protect a 5-2 lead for Ralph Terry. In the eighth, he replaced Hector Lopez in left field with Tony Kubek.

Arroyo hurled three scoreless innings to preserve Terry's fifth triumph. In the ninth, Kubek made a spectacular catch of Al Kaline's bid for a home run with a running, over-the-shoulder stab of the .415 drive in front of the bleachers.

Hog, Texas Game Will Be Televised

By JIM KENSIL

NEW YORK (AP)—Bowl game winners Georgia, Syracuse, Washington, Arkansas and Louisiana State are among the 30 major college football teams that will be seen on television this season.

Georgia, 14-0 victor over Mississippi in the Orange Bowl, opens the 21-game TV schedule Sept. 17 against Alabama at Birmingham in a nationally televised contest.

There are nine national TV games and 12 regional telecasts divided evenly among four dates in the schedule announced Sunday by the American Broadcasting Co.

National champion Syracuse which beat Texas 23-14 in the Cotton Bowl to cap an undefeated season, appears nationally Oct. 1 against Kansas.

Saturday, Oct. 8, Washington, the team that smashed Wisconsin 44-8 in the Rose Bowl, plays Stanford on national TV.

Regional TV audiences will see Arkansas vs. Texas on Oct. 15 and LSU vs. Mississippi on Oct. 29. Arkansas trimmed Georgia Tech 14-7 in the Gator Bowl, and the LSU-Ole Miss game will be a replay of Mississippi's 21-0 Sugar Bowl victory.

Syracuse also will make a regional TV appearance against Army in a game at New York Nov. 5.

The National Collegiate Athletic Assn., which controls and approves the football TV plan, permits a maximum of one national and one regional appearance or two regional appearances.

All games are on Saturdays, except the traditional Texas vs. Texas A&M Southwest Conference game on Thanksgiving Day.

Other teams, besides Texas and Syracuse, that will appear both nationally and regionally are Army, Ohio State, Northwestern, Iowa, Navy, Stanford and Michigan State.

Illinois, California and the Air Force Academy each will make two regional appearances.

Kennedy Wins Labor Over Johnson

By G. MILTON KELLY
ELIZABETHVILLE, Mass. (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, president of the politically powerful United Auto Workers Union, said today Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson has won the right to have organized labor support for election as vice president.

Reuther spoke out after a talk with Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, who smiled widely at Reuther's words.

They stood side by side on the lawn of Kennedy's summer home to address a news conference.

Reuther had been one of the earlier Kennedy-for-President supporters. Friends, however, said Reuther, like some other labor leaders, was dismayed when Kennedy chose Johnson.

Asked whether he always had considered Johnson an "excellent" candidate as he described him today, Reuther parried: "In conventions and contests people have preferences."

He said he can speak only for himself but he believes organized labor "will make clear shortly" its support of the Democratic ticket's "two excellent candidates."

A reporter told Kennedy that Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, has stated that Kennedy "paid the price for labor's support."

"I wonder what he meant?" Kennedy said.

Reuther at this point said he'd like to comment that "the American labor movement is going to work hard for this ticket—we're going to support Kennedy and Johnson. Sen. Kennedy is supporting the things America needs. He hasn't had to pay a price."

Gov. Michael V. Di Salle of Ohio was expected here later today.

ELIZABETHVILLE, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy had a heavy date today with Walter P. Reuther, president of the politically potent United Auto Workers Union.

Reuther was among the early Kennedy-for-President forces. But friends described him as having just about "hit the ceiling" when Kennedy chose Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas as a running mate.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Reuther's home state of Michigan, who also had looked sourly at the choice of Johnson, told Kennedy Tuesday the Texan now is "most acceptable" to Democrats in that state.

Kennedy headquarters said the short notice meeting between the presidential nominee and his long-tongued labor chief friend was arranged at Kennedy's invitation, mainly to discuss unemployment in the automobile industry.

It provides an opportunity, however, for Reuther to speak out on political matters if he chooses. Gov. Michael V. Di Salle of Ohio and a half-dozen of Kennedy's advisers were expected later, for separate talks with the senator on a variety of subjects.

Wednesday Kennedy switches to talks on farm problems, planning meetings with Gov. Herschel Loveless of Iowa, whom many regard as a likely choice for secretary of agriculture if Kennedy wins the Nov. 8 election.

This is Kennedy's third and final week of a work-rest stay at his summer home. He will fly back to Washington Sunday night, to plunge into the turmoil of the resuming congress session.

Public Works Bill Faces Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the biggest unfinished jobs facing the returning Congress is action on a bill that would provide about four billion dollars for various federal public works agencies in the year that started July 1.

The measure—the public works appropriation bill, and referred to also at times as the water projects appropriation bill—was passed by the House May 25 and approved by the Senate Appropriations Committee June 29.

The next action will be by the Senate itself, which reconvenes Aug. 8. After the Senate acts, the measure will be returned to the House, which returns August 15.

A bill to authorize construction at some future date of about 130 water projects and involving a cost of approximately $1,400,000,000 was signed by President Eisenhower on July 14. That measure only authorizes the work. It provides no money.

The public works appropriation bill, as approved by the Senate Appropriations Committee, would provide a total of $4,030,010,605 to finance work on a wide assortment of projects in the fiscal year which began July 1 and ends June 30, 1961.

The amount is slightly higher than President Eisenhower's budget recommendations of $4,004,141,180 and about 115 million dollars more than the $3,914,798,985 voted by the House.

The measure would provide $2,675,960,000 for the Atomic Energy Commission, $973,903,400 for Army Engineers; $292,559,025 for the Reclamation Bureau; $29,570,000 for the Bonneville Power Administration; $20,520,000 for the Tennessee Valley Authority; $800,000 for the Southeastern Power Administration and $2,575,000 for the Southwestern Power Administration.

The bulk of funds for Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau is for planning, constructing and maintaining various types of water projects such as flood control, navigation, beach erosion, power and reclamation projects.

Projects contained in the bill as approved by the senate committee, with the house-approved amount in parentheses, include:

Arkansas: construction—Emergency bank stabilization, Ark., and Okla., $5,000,000 ($5,000,000); Ark. and Okla. bank stabilization, general, $4,000,000 (nothing); McKinney Bayou and Barkman Creek, Ark., and Tex., $668,000 ($668,000); Red River levees below Denison, Dam, Ark., La., and Tex., $700,000 ($700,000); Beaver Reservoir, $2,300,000 ($2,800,000); Bull Shoals power units $3,300,000 ($3,300,000); Dardanelle Lock and Dam $6,100,000 ($6,100,000); Greys Ferry Reservoir $14,143,000 ($14,143,000); Table Rock Reservoir $800,000 ($800,000); Millwood Reservoir $500,000 (nothing); Garland City, $20,000 (nothing).

Two Hurt in Accident Near Hope

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Warren of near Hope, were injured last night in collision on Highway 67, east near Perry's Truck Stop. Deputy Sheriff, Herbert Griffin, said a truck driven by Vernon Redmon of Jefferson, Tenn., Kentucky was attempting to pass the Warren vehicle which was in process of turning off the highway. The collision rolled the big truck across Highway 67 and traffic was partially blocked for about 1½ hours.

The Warrens were brought to a local hospital by an Oakcrest ambulance where they were treated for cuts and bruises and released. Deputy Griffin said Redmon was charged with hazardous driving.

Plans Made for Missile Base

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Construction of 19 Titan missile launching sites near Little Rock will be supervised by the newly-formed Ballistic Missile Construction Office of the Army Engineers.

Col. Arthur M. Jacoby, Little Rock district engineer, said yesterday his office would proceed with planning until the new unit, which went into operation Monday, is ready to take over. It will direct construction of all Atlas, Titan and Minuteman missile bases.

The Titan sites will be built around Little Rock Air Force Base. The first million dollars for construction to start early next year, was released this week.

Jacoby said no date has been set for the new Engineer unit to take over construction supervision.

Ninemires Visit Hope on Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Ninemire and their three daughters are visitors this week from Bryan, Texas, where Mr. Ninemire is general manager of Radio Station WTAW. He formerly was commercial manager of Hope's KXAR. The Ninemires are winding up a vacation trip which included Kansas City, where they left their son for a visit with his paternal grandparents.

Woman Editor Resigns Post

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Mrs. Reba Wilcoxson has resigned as editor of the Arkansas Alumnae magazine, citing a proposed reorganization which would give her a different supervisor.

Mrs. Wilcoxson, editor of the Alumnae since 1957, said she resigned effective Monday because of the proposed Alumnae Association reorganization. It would put the magazine under the alumni secretary rather than the University's information director.

The Alumnae Assn. is seeking a new editor.

Hopeful That Congress Will Buckle Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) said today he hopes the Senate will keep political grandstanding to a minimum and buckle down to serious work when it meets again Monday.

Case said most senators already have had "a glorious opportunity to let off steam" at the Los Angeles and Chicago political conventions.

Another call for serious Senate action came Tuesday night from Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa). He asked for major changes in Senate rules to open the way for "hundred days" of action next year for Democratic proposals.

Clark said that during the past convention session he will introduce rules changes to eliminate the filibuster, prevent time-wasting on irrelevant speeches and strip committee chairmen of much of their power to bottle up bills.

Clark's proposals obviously were too sweeping for a short session to handle. The House does not meet again until Aug. 15. Party leaders hope to wrap up the session by Labor Day.

Like Clark, Case aimed some of his fire at legislative logjams in committees.

"The House Rules Committee, dominated by Southern congressmen, has become the 'graveyard' of much needed legislation," Case said in a report to his New Jersey constituents. He said it has long blocked school aid, housing and other legislation.

Probe Started of 'Copter Crash

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency said today it has ordered emergency inspections of the main rotor lifting blades of Sikorsky S58 helicopters as the result of a crash in which 13 persons were killed.

Blades which have been in service for more than 1,400 hours must be replaced, FAA decreed. An FAA spokesman emphasized that the agency is not identifying the rotor blades as the cause of the accident in Chicago July 27. It is the responsibility of the Civil Aeronautics Board to determine the cause.

However, the FAA believed that circumstances warranted the inspections, and that the possibility of rotor blade trouble must be considered, the spokesman said.

Man Arrested and Still Is Seized

Sheriff Jimmie Griffin reported today seizure of a moonshine liquor still about three miles south of Fulton. It was a small two-barrel rig. Sheriff Griffin said J. B. Harless of Fulton was arrested and charged with possession of liquor still.

Highlights of the 45th annual International Kiwanis convention held in Miami Beach this year was brought to the local club Tuesday by George Frazier and E. P. Young, Jr.

The local delegates used audio and visual and equipment in presenting the program, as well as personal remarks concerning the convention program.

Nixon Journeys to Hawaii to Open Drive

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
LOS ANGELES (AP)—A chipper, bright-eyed Richard M. Nixon flew off into a black predawn today to open his presidential campaign in Hawaii.

After posing for photographers at the airport, the vice president and his wife, Pat, climbed aboard the airliner.

The Republican presidential nominee and Mrs. Nixon boarded their chartered plane before dawn for a history-making political trip to the mid-Pacific islands that make up the 50th state.

Nixon, due to land in Honolulu at 11:30 a. m.—4:30 p. m. EST—will be the first presidential candidate to seek votes in Hawaii. Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic contender, plans to visit Hawaii and Alaska around September.

At the end of the first day of his hurry-up campaign tour to the West Coast and Hawaii, Nixon accorded a returning hero's welcome at Whittier College, his alma mater. It was his third election year homecoming to the college in his home town, 20 miles from Los Angeles.

Hundreds of townspeople applauded as Nixon's motorcade went by, and a crowd of at least 10,000 packed the little stadium where Nixon played on Whittier's football squad as a substitute tackle.

In his speech Nixon said that "keeping the peace without surrendering principle" is the foremost responsibility of a president. The Eisenhower administration, he said, is keeping America strong, not because it wants war, but because "we know this is the way to avoid war."

He held to a policy of firmness without engaging in a war of words in dealing with nations that threaten the peace. He also said the United States wants "the fact of disarmament instead of the fiction of it," which he said the Soviets have been composing.

Nixon tied in Kennedy and the Democratic platform with union leaders at a news conference after landing in Los Angeles.

Before leaving Washington, he had said Kennedy was taking the "low road" in statements of disavowal of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's policies.

In answer to a new conference question, Nixon said he would stick to the "high road," if by use of that term a reporter meant arguing the issues and avoiding personalities.

Later, he said he was not surprised that labor leaders were assembling behind Kennedy. The Massachusetts senator paid the fee, he said, with the party's platform. Union leaders have praised that platform.

"I will not pay that price," Nixon said.

South to Find Very Little Difference in Rights Plank of Either Political Party

The Great Issues: Civil Rights Editor's Note — The Democrats adopted a strong civil rights plank and the one big fight in the Republican National Convention was over, following suit. The subject is certain to figure prominently in the campaign. The following article, another in a series on the major issues, examines the candidates' civil rights stand.

By JAMES MARLOW AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the stoniest Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy throw at each other in the presidential campaign will be scooped up out of the battle-torn field of civil rights.

By the yardstick of the militant National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People both presidential candidates have racked up excellent records on civil rights in their 14 years apiece in Congress.

Such imperfections as exist in their records—at least in the eyes of all-out civil rights advocates—may sound like hair-splitting if the two candidates get into a shouting match on each other's civil rights performance.

Thus Negroes in the northern cities won't have much to choose between the two men on that issue. By the same token, neither will white Southerners who have long fought forceful civil rights legislation.

While the two men, Kennedy heading the Democratic ticket and Nixon in the Republicans' No. 1 spot, no doubt will spend some time trying to make each other look inferior on civil rights, they will probably spend more time talking about:

1. Details in the Democratic and Republican platform planks on civil rights, although both planks this year are the strongest in the history of either party. (The NAACP says the Democratic plank is the stronger of the two, but adds that the areas of agreement are much more significant than the differences.)

2. On the civil rights performance of both parties over the years and what civil rights advocates can expect if (a) the Democrats win and if (b) the Republicans do.

There is a deep irony in this campaign in which the two main candidates have outstanding civil rights records and both parties have come further than ever before with civil rights promises.

With other things being pretty equal—in the candidates' records and the parties' promises—some sophisticated leaders of the civil rights fight, both Negroes and whites, may fall back on traditional reasoning.

That is, that a Democratic victory will mean keeping Southern Democratic foes of civil rights in Congress in their key committee.

The man then drove away from the airport in a cab.

The takeoff was delayed slightly to permit a thorough search of the plane and luggage, which disclosed no bomb.

The flight left Reno at 3:21 p. m. (PCT).

Hoover said FBI agents traced the bomb scare to Leonard Dale Sage, 34, who was taken into custody at his home in Reno this morning.

Sage was described as a former professional wrestler under the name of Johnnie Savage.

Cab Driver Jailed for Bomb Scare

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI agents in Reno, Nev., today arrested a taxicab driver on a charge that he falsely reported a bomb had been concealed on Vice President Richard M. Nixon's westward bound campaign plane.

Nixon, Mrs. Nixon and their party are using a United Airlines charter flight on their present trip to Hawaii, which made a stop at Reno Tuesday before departure for Los Angeles.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today disclosed that shortly before the Reno takeoff, a man approached flight personnel and said, "Your airplane is not going out today. I just put a bomb on it."

The man then drove away from the airport in a cab.

The takeoff was delayed slightly to permit a thorough search of the plane and luggage, which disclosed no bomb.

The flight left Reno at 3:21 p. m. (PCT).

Hoover said FBI agents traced the bomb scare to Leonard Dale Sage, 34, who was taken into custody at his home in Reno this morning.

Sage was described as a former professional wrestler under the name of Johnnie Savage.

Premier Says UN Will Have to Fight Way

By ADRIAN PORTER

ELIZABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A threat of warfare built up today over United Nations plans to move U. N. forces into secessionist Katanga province Saturday.

Premier Moise Tshombe of Katanga announced his government has ordered mobilization of all able-bodied men among the province's 1,250,000 people and would use force to oppose their entry.

In Leopoldville, a U. N. spokesman declared the force will enter Katanga regardless of the provincial regime's stand.

"Our troops are going into Katanga as planned on Saturday," the U. N. spokesman said.

"The decision to send a U. N. force into Katanga, announced by U. N. Secretary-General Hammarskjöld, represented a major concession to demands of the central Congo government for an immediate end to the secession of the copper-rich province, which supplied 60 per cent of the wealth of the former Belgian colony."

"They will have to fight their way in," Tshombe told newsmen after hearing a broadcast of U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld's announcement that U. N. forces will take over from Belgian soldiers keeping order in this rich mining province in the south-east Congo.

"The Katanga radio-broadcast orders for all men to report for mobilization. Tshombe said: 'I have support of tribal chiefs in the decision to mobilize. He charged that a U. N. entry would constitute aggression."

"Katanga troops will not fire first, and we do not intend any aggression," said Tshombe, whose government has declared Katanga's independence of Premier Patrice Lumumba's central Congo government.

"But if U. N. troops try to land here," Tshombe continued, "that will be an act of aggression and we will oppose it."

Belgian officials in Elisabethville did not take his threat seriously. A fact of military life is that does not have the means to put up any real fight.

"Army recruiting is going on steadily," one of the Belgian officers said, "but new personnel have to be trained and they certainly will not be ready to fight the U. N. troops."

The premier said he had not been officially informed of the decision to send U. N. troops to Katanga, announced in Leopoldville Tuesday night by Hammarskjöld after the Belgian government agreed to pull its troops in Katanga back to their base camp.

Tshombe said he also had no notification from the Belgians of their change of heart.

However, Tshombe said, he would welcome the arrival of U. N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche, being sent by Hammarskjöld to Elisabethville Friday to arrange the entry of the U. N. troops. The premier said he wanted to discuss his government's position with Bunche.

The U. N. announcement stunned the white population of Elisabethville, which had returned to normal pursuits under the protection of Belgian troops.

Townsend Is Optimistic on Chances

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Republican national committee chairman for Arkansas, Wallace Townsend, is optimistic about his party's chances of carrying Arkansas in the presidential and gubernatorial contests in November.

On the national level, Townsend yesterday gave two reasons for his optimism. A promise by Vice President Richard Nixon, the GOP presidential nominee, to campaign in Arkansas and a milder civil rights plank than that adopted by the Democratic Party.

On the state level, Townsend was encouraged by assurance of a "fairly extensive campaign" by Henry M. Britt of Hot Springs, the Republican candidate for governor. Orval E. Faubus won nomination to an unprecedented fourth term in last week's Democratic primary.

Townsend said Nixon "definitely promised me he would come," but he didn't know when. Townsend said the GOP civil rights plank should appeal more to Arkansas voters than that of the Democrats.

Lucky to Be Alive, Says U. S. Pilot

NEW YORK (AP) — "The people here tell me that I am lucky to be alive, but only time will tell me whether or not I was lucky."

Francis Gary Powers, penned these words to his wife on May 26 as he sat in a Moscow prison cell. They were the first received by Mrs. Powers after her husband was downed while flying a U-2 reconnaissance plane over the Soviet Union on May 1.

Since then she has received two others, dated June 28 and July 19. Among other things, Powers reported he was permitted to smoke, take walks, sunbathe and read. He said he was getting "more than enough to eat."

The flier is to be tried by the Soviet Union on espionage charges beginning Aug. 17.

"Excerpts from his letters were made public this week in Newsweek magazine. All the communications bore the postmark of Lubyanka prison in Moscow."

Buchanan-Averett Vows Read in Baptist Church

Miss Elizabeth Ann Averett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Benson Averett of West Monroe, La., became the bride of Clyde Watson Buchanan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Watson Buchanan of Prescott, at 7 p. m. Friday in the chapel of the First Baptist Church at West Monroe, La.

Dr. Jaroy Weber was the officiating minister. Nuptial music was presented by Miss Linda Womack, pianist, and Jack Day, soloist. Ted McDaniel lighted the tapers.

Mr. Averett gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of silk organza over taffeta with short cap sleeves and a scooped neckline. A large bow centered the waistline. Her illusion veil was attached to a pearl head-dress, and she carried an orchid on a Bible. Her jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Sarah Virginia Averett, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mr. Buchanan served his son as best man, and ushers were Ted McDaniel of Alexandria, La., and La and Tommy Cox of Prescott.

For her daughters wedding Mrs. Averett wore a beige silk dress and a beige feathered hat. Her accessories were also beige and her corsage was pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Buchanan, mother of the groom, chose a navy blue chanting dress piped in white and a hat of white velvet leaves. Her accessories were white with a touch of gold. Her corsage was of pink sweetheart roses.

The reception was given in the church banquet hall. The three tiered wedding cake decorated in pink, blue and white topped with a miniature bride and groom was served from a table overlaid with a white imporeted lace cloth at the corners were placed the

Nixon Calls Rockefeller, Ike for Aid

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, mapping his strategy, moved today to line up participation by both President Eisenhower and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the Republican campaign.

Long-distance calls with both those leaders by Nixon, the GOP presidential candidate, resulted in these immediate plans:

1. Nixon will fly to Newport, R.I. late today to confer with Eisenhower before taking off Tuesday morning on his whirlwind trip to the West Coast and Hawaii.

2. Robert H. Finch, newly designated Nixon campaign director, will meet with Rockefeller in New York Wednesday to work out the governor's participation in Nixon's campaign.

These plans were announced as Nixon huddled with his vice-presidential running mate, U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, and members of their staffs at a downtown hotel here.

Nixon came to the closed session after having breakfast with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Nixon and Lodge arranged to leave for Newport about 3:30 p. m. The trip was decided upon Sunday when Nixon and Eisenhower talked by phone.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said they will discuss Eisenhower's role in the campaign. Nixon said last week that the President is tremendously interested in a Republican victory this fall and how to accomplish it.

The appointment of Finch, 34, an administrative assistant to the vice president, was announced this morning.

Klein said Finch and Leonard W. Hall, former GOP national chairman who coordinated Nixon's pre-convention activities, would work together. Hall had previously been tabbed as general campaign chairman.

One of Finch's first assignments will be to develop plans for the campaign in New York with Rockefeller. At their conference in New York they also will cover Rockefeller's forthcoming travels around the country for the Nixon-Lodge ticket.

Finch said that in New York, as in other states, the activities of all volunteer organizations will be concentrated "under one roof."

Finch was chairman of the Los Angeles County Republican Committee before joining Nixon's personal staff at the Capitol last year. No time limit was set for today's meeting. Nixon wanted as many hours as necessary to discuss the general theme of his campaign and set up at least a preliminary schedule of speaking dates and places and to assign his personnel to various responsibilities.

Assures That Pilot to Be Necessary

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Officers of the three armed services have assured the aircraft industry that rockets and automatically guided craft cannot make piloted planes obsolete.

New kinds of low-flying, low-speed planes with men at the controls are among the needs for future defense, they said.

Addressing the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, Vice Adm. R.B. Pirie said Monday the Navy is counting upon manned planes to help it move quickly during small crises. This, he said, is a good method of preventing little crises from becoming big ones calling for nuclear war.

Maj. Gen. Bruce K. Holloway, director of Air Force operational requirements, said he envisioned a piloted plane with the ability to take off and land on a runway 2,000 to 3,000 feet long which could carry a nuclear warhead.

A. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, chief of research and development for the Army, told the group the Soviet Union has a missile that can be moved on trucks or railroad cars and has a range of about 1,500 miles.

Such a missile setup could be brought secretly into Cuba and be used against this country, could blast cities such as Houston and New Orleans with great effectiveness, Trudeau said.

Killed in Collision

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Harold H. Holt, 52, was killed in a collision on Highway 62 about two miles east of nearby Lincoln early today.

Holt was the operator of a Lincoln service station.

State Trooper Kenneth McKee said Holt's automobile collided with one driven by Clifford Edwards, 18, of Lincoln. Edwards was injured and was hospitalized at Prairie Grove in good condition.

The men were alone in the cars.

chairmanships which, as in the past, would enable them to try to keep civil rights legislation bottled up in committees.

If that diagnosis is correct, then a number of leaders in the long-drawn out fight for more and stronger civil rights laws may favor Nixon over Kennedy in this campaign.

A Nixon victory which gave Republicans control of the House would knock the Southern Democrats out of their committee chairmanships and replace them with Republicans, although it may be fallacious to consider this a boon to backers of civil rights bills.

If conservative House Republicans ignored Nixon and teamed up with Southern Democrats, as they have in the past, the blocks to civil rights bills would be just as effective as if the Democrats ran the House.

The picture gets even a little more confusing when you remember that in the Senate, where only one-third of the seats are at stake, the Democrats have such an overwhelming majority they will retain control even though Nixon wins the presidency.

There, just as in the past, Southern Democrats would retain their committee chairmanships. Still, despite their power, they weren't able to prevent the Senate from passing civil rights bills in 1957 and 1960.

What does it all add up to? Simply that it's going to be tough choosing for those most anxious to see quick improvement in the civil rights picture.

Here are imperfections in the Nixon-Kennedy records in the eyes of all-out civil righters: Nixon has been consistently against a strong FEPC—Fair Employment Practices Commission—whose purpose, if created, would be to forbid or discourage discrimination against job-seekers because of their color or religion.

In the 1957 civil rights fight in the Senate Kennedy took a step which displeased the NAACP and was contrary to the thinking of some of the Senate liberals.

The House had passed a civil rights bill and sent it to the Senate. The usual procedure would have been to send it to the Judiciary Committee for consideration before it was laid before the full Senate.

Ordinarily, this might have been routine. But this wasn't an ordinary situation. Sen. James O. Eastland, Mississippi Democrat and arch-foe of civil rights, was chairman of the Judiciary Committee. He would try to bottle up the House-passed bill. Kennedy voted to send it to the Eastland committee, even though there was pressure on him not to do so.

At the same time he told the Senate if Eastland tried to smother the bill he would join with others in wrenching the measure out of the Mississippiian's grip and forcing it before the Senate.

But Nixon, as vice president, helped kill the move to send the bill to the Eastland Committee; he let the bill be-pass the committee by an opinion from the chair.

Kennedy has a much longer record of voting for civil rights legislation if only because for the past seven years Nixon, as vice

Casualty of British Jazz Festival

BY ANDREW BOROWIEC

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — United Nations troops are scheduled to start moving into the rich mining province of Katanga Saturday following a Belgian agreement to pull her troops there back into their base camp.

There was no word from Katanga on the reaction of Premier Patrice Lumumba's central government. But without Belgian troops to support him, Tshombe presumably would have to modify his stand and negotiate with Lumumba on future relations between the central government and the province which before independence was the Congo's economic mainstay.

Another big question was whether the 15,000 Belgian civilians in Katanga would stay on after their country's forces leave or flee in panic as the Belgians did from the rest of the Congo. president, could not vote except when necessary to break a tie-vote on the Senate floor.

Nevertheless, as vice president he can give advisory opinions and he has used this power a couple of times in support of those trying to make it easier to block Southern filibusters against civil rights legislation.

His lordship announced there would be no more jazz festivals at his home.

The two subsequent sessions were orderly, and Montagu said he might let another festival be held at Beaulieu, but with a "more restricted" audience.

Will Revert to One Annual Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league club owners have agreed to the players' overwhelming desire for two All-Star games in 1961 but in 1962 and thereafter the leagues will revert to the traditional one game.

Commissioner Ford Frick yesterday confirmed The Associated Press exclusive of last week that the two All-Star games policy will be retained for next year. The games to be played a month apart.

The first game will be played in Candelstick Park, home of the San Francisco Giants. The second game will be played in an Eastern city, exact site to be determined, but probably Boston.

No dates were specified but the first game probably will be played Tuesday, July 11 and the second game Tuesday, August 8.

Wants Belgians Branded Aggressors

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ghana said in a note published today it will ask the United Nations to treat Belgium as an aggressor if Belgian soldiers continue what it called aggression in the Congo.

Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba, in a similar letter, said he may ask for a meeting of the U.N. Security Council in a few days unless the Belgian forces get out of the Congo.

The cops, ambulances and firemen had to be called in.

Some of the beatniks set fire to one of Lord Montagu's outbuildings.

His lordship announced there would be no more jazz festivals at his home.

The two subsequent sessions were orderly, and Montagu said he might let another festival be held at Beaulieu, but with a "more restricted" audience.

Fireworks Bring Fearful Calls

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A series of loud noises resembling explosions touched off dozens of telephone calls to police and news media last night.

Callers, thinking of five integration-related bombings here within a year, asked the source of the "explosions."

Tension and fatigue are two chief enemies of good looks. Most American women, whether housewives or career women, are familiar with both. One way to counteract the ravages of tension and fatigue is to form sound beauty habits that stand up in spite of a tight schedule. When you do have a few moments in which to relax, tackle the problem of oily skin areas (left). This housewife uses a thick soap suds lather on the oily areas of her face, rests for a few minutes, then washes her face with cold water. A twenty-minute soak

Parents Want Daughter to Wipe Slate Clean

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:
My daughter had a baby three months ago. A month before her time she went to a religious home and stayed till after the baby was boarded in a foster home. She said she would put the baby out for adoption and start a new life.

Now she has changed her mind and wants to keep the baby. She has a job paying $35 a week but this is not enough for two. The baby's father, a married man, denies our daughter and he ever went together. My husband wants her to wipe the slate clean and give up the baby as she originally planned.

We are thinking of the child. Our daughter thinks our own name is all it needs. She is almost 19 and very quiet. We never know what she is thinking. Some of her old friends are starting to call. We've had her room all done over. She can drive the new car if she wants to. We've tried to be kind and understanding but we live in a small community and hope to keep this thing a secret. To this day, not a relative knows.

I'm tired after bringing up seven children—my youngest is five, and don't feel as if I could go through it again. Can you advise me? I am going to show our daughter your answer. —Unhappy Mother.

Dear Unhappy Mother: I feel sympathy for everybody concerned in this pathetic situation, most of all for you and your husband. That wistful paragraph about fixing up your daughter's room, offering her the privilege of driving the new car and wiping the slate clean, is touching. If only you could turn back the clock, for that is what you are endeavoring to do, and find your little girl once again! But, much as we yearn to protect those we love from life, we cannot.

Try to de-personalize this problem and bring yourself to see it in terms of human values. Your daughter is answerable to her conscience, not society. Be thankful she has the moral courage to keep her child. Give her to understand that you will back her to the hilt—not by taking over her problem and her baby, for that would not be helping her—but by maintaining a loving, hands-off attitude.

Here is a situation at her own making. Give her the opportunity to prove her character. Let her work it out herself. It won't be easy. Nothing worthwhile is. But in the end, if she holds to what she believes is right, you and your husband will have a daughter of whom you can really be proud.

I am 36, my husband 49. We have a daughter 11 and a son four and a half years old. My husband is quick tempered but simmers down soon after the explosion and all is forgotten as far as he is concerned. I take and take his hateful remarks, then remind him of everything ugly he said and the fat is really in the fire.

He loves our children dearly but is impatient with them. I belong to a bridge club which meets twice a month. He joined the local golf club. For the last five years our life has revolved around golf. I'm getting so tired of lonely Sunday afternoons. He belongs to one church, I to another. I take the children to Sunday School with me but our daughter goes to church with her father part of the time. He tells her he won't give her show money unless she does.

If we didn't have the children, I would have left long ago. My husband has his good points but I've got to the place where I don't appreciate them. Please help me. I'm willing to try anything. —G.H.

Dear G.H.: The discord you describe is a symptom rather than a cause and would not in itself justify a divorce. The root of the trouble appears to be emotional immaturity. From what you say, your husband acts like a selfish child. Help him by being the responsible adult.

Prove that you are emotionally mature by compromising. Cultivate the ability to adjust. Accept the poor man's juvenile grades calmly. If his criticism is fair, thank him, if not disregard it. Take a positive attitude. Start with the determination to make your marriage a success. It will be if you want to be.

August May Be Little Wetter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau said today its 30-day outlook for August calls for cooler and wetter weather than normal in the Great Lakes region, along the South Atlantic coast and in the Pacific Northwest.

The bureau added that warm dry weather is expected to prevail in the Great Plains and Rocky Mountain area.

In the remainder of the nation, near normal conditions are expected.

you say? —J.E.T.
Dear J.E.T.: I say if you love him and he, you, marry. Were you older than he your chance of happiness would be slim, but where the girl is younger, as in your case, the margin widens. My first husband was 17 years older than I, my second is 15 years my senior. My married life was and is extremely happy.

In the bathtub (center) does wonders in unkinking nerves and relieving fatigue. It's far more beneficial to beauty than a hasty shower. To prevent shaggy eyebrows, take care of them before you apply make-up. Rub them with damp soap to soften them before plucking. After tweezing, wipe the brows with just a dab of witch hazel. Few women have hours to spend at a dressing table these days so try to devise your own shortcuts as you go along. You may be surprised at the amount of time you can save.

Family of Pilot Get Soviet Visas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Embassy reported today it has issued visas for Francis Gary Powers' wife, father and mother, to visit the Soviet Union in time for his trial on spy charges beginning Aug. 17.

Powers was pilot of the U2 reconnaissance plane downed in the Soviet Union May 1. An embassy spokesman also said visas would be, or have been, issued for three others who wish to accompany the family members—Carl AM Macafee, an attorney for the father, Oliver W. Powers, Dr. Lewis K. Ingram, physician for the ailing mother, Mrs. Ida Ford Powers, and Sol W. Curry, home town friend and adviser of the father.

Visas apparently have not been issued for four attorneys who want to go to Moscow to help defend Powers against Soviet espionage charges, if they can.

The Soviet Embassy issued the visas, a spokesman said, after being advised by Moscow that they should be granted.

The pilot's father, a Pound, Vn. shoe repairman, already had been issued a visa, but he had not yet announced whether he would definitely go ahead.

Diamonds Are Closely Guarded

By HAL MCCLURE

NEW YORK (AP)—An armored car pulls up in front of the Fifth Avenue showrooms of Harry Winston, the international jewel merchant.

Armed guards, carrying several large bundles, hop out and quickly disappear inside.

They have reason for caution: this is not an ordinary delivery. Winston is receiving one of the largest diamond purchases ever made—30,000 carats, worth a whopping $1,150,000.

Winston, the largest independent gem merchant in the world, bought the diamonds—about 110,000 of them—from the U.S. government last week.

The auction, conducted by the U.S. Customs Office, attracted bidders from throughout the world. About 47,000 carats were sold for $1,000,000, well in excess of the original estimate.

What's the government doing with diamonds?

"During the war," explained Winston, "the government stockpiled vast quantities of diamonds—both cuttable and industrial—as a safeguard for defense needs."

"Now," the Office of Defense Mobilization says, the stockpiling of cuttable stones is no longer necessary."

Expansion of Majors Kills New League

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The Continental League is dead. But the dream of a vigorous New York attorney and an aging baseball executive did not pass without forcing the major leagues to expand from eight to ten teams.

The decision to expand was made Tuesday at a joint meeting between the Continental League and the expansion committee of the American and National leagues.

Walter O'Malley, owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers and chairman of the National League's expansion committee, made the announcement that all three leagues had unanimously agreed that four teams from the Continental League would be absorbed by the American and National leagues.

While O'Malley was relating that the suggestion was made by Lou Perini, owner of the Milwaukee Braves, attorney Bill Shea, founder of the Continental League, and Branch Rickey, 70, its president, nodded in agreement.

O'Malley said there had been no discussions as to which teams would be selected by which league but added: "We immediately will recommend expansion and we would like to do it by 1961."

Speculation was that New York and Minneapolis-St. Paul would become major league cities along with a Texas team.

"The Continental League unanimously accepts the proposal outlined by Mr. Perini," said Rickey. "Four of the clubs will be taken by the American League and the National League. Another four clubs can be taken subsequently, within a reasonable amount of time, which has not been stated."

In the eventuality of adding an additional four teams, major league baseball probably would be broken down into three eight-team leagues.

O'Malley, acting as spokesman for the American and National leagues, said he expected the two leagues to meet jointly within a month to iron out necessary details of expansion.

So ended a three-year war initiated by Shea after O'Malley had spearheaded a drive which moved the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants to Los Angeles and San Francisco in 1957.

This move left New York without a National League baseball club and Shea, heading a committee to regain a second major league team for New York, confronted the majors with a proposal to expand. It was turned down.

"Left no other alternative," Shea began working on a third league and the Continental came into official being June 27, 1959.

The end came Tuesday when O'Malley finished making his announcement.

Rickey, asked if this move meant the end of the Continental League, answered "obviously."

In New York, Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick expressed pleasure in the manner in which the expansion problem has been solved.

"I always have been in favor of expansion," said Frick. "And I am happy that the move has been made peacefully."

Hope Loses 13-0 in State Legion Play

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP)—Fort Smith and host Walnut Ridge advanced in the state American Legion baseball tournament with victories yesterday over Hope and Pine Bluff. Three more games were on tap today.

Pine Bluff's Clayton McCaskill pitched a four-hitter against Walnut Ridge, but lost when the hosts scored three runs in the eighth inning to go with an unearned tally in the fifth. McCaskill struck out 17 men, but walked 14.

Centerfielder Charles Haynes tripled to drive in two of Walnut Ridge's eighth-inning runs. Pine Bluff got seven hits off Walnut Ridge pitcher Tommy Allen, who fanned 16 men.

Fort Smith's pitchers, Chester Henry and David Dick, allowed only four hits while their mates were pounding three Hope hurlers for 16 safes. Marlin Bercher got four hits in five times at bat, scoring three runs and driving in one for Fort Smith. Phillip Young and Bob Pratt both hit triples for Fort Smith.

Today's games pitted Conway against Corning and Little Rock Check Cab against Helena in first round games. Pine Bluff met Hope in the loser's bracket, with one to be eliminated from the double elimination tournament.

Yankees Take Over First in Double Win

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Don Newcombe ever catches up with the guy who coined the phrase "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em," he'll give him a swift kick in the pants.

Big Newk tried that "join 'em" gag Tuesday night—and nearly got his brains beat in.

The erstwhile National League pitching star made his first American League start, as a brand new member of the Cleveland Indians, against Washington. The Senators blasted him out of the box in two innings and went on to win 9-0.

When Big Newk was a Brooklyn Dodger, he was truly a great pitcher. But against the American League, he was a dud, losing all five decisions over a period of eight years. One was an All-Star defeat. The others were World Series losses to the Yankees.

Washington scored twice in each of the first two innings and Camilo Pascual went on to toss a five-hitter, striking out 11 to snap the Senators' four-game losing streak.

The Yankees burst into a full game lead over Chicago in the battle for first place by sweeping a day-night doubleheader from Detroit by 3-2 scores as Baltimore was thrashing the White Sox 6-2.

Kansas City won Boston 10-4 to climb to within .002 percentage points of the seventh-place Red Sox.

Pittsburgh shut out Los Angeles 3-0 to open a three-game lead over Milwaukee in the National League pennant race. The Braves dropped a 4-2 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals who moved past the Dodgers into third place.

Philadelphia whipped San Francisco twice, 7-3, and 6-5, and Chicago's Cubs defeated Cincinnati 5-3.

A dramatic 10th inning homer by pinch-hitter Bob Cerv, following Roger Maris' two-run homer that tied the score 2-2 in the ninth, gave the Yankees their uphill victory in the night half of the twin bill. The first affair also went into overtime, the Yankees winning in the 14th on John Blanchard's single with the bases full and two out.

Hard luck Jim Bunning, who had lost three in a row and had not been given a run by his teammates during a 20-inning stretch, had a two-hit, 11-strikeout shutout until the ninth. He walked leadoff hitter Bobby Richardson and complained of an arm strain after serving two balls to Mickey Mantle. Bill Fischer took over and threw the home run ball to Maris. Bob Bruce served up Cerv's game-winning homer.

Gus Triandos smashed a three-run homer, rookie shortstop Ron Hansen rapped three hits and Jerry Barber, 21, hurled a nine-hitter as Baltimore made it two in a row over the White Sox and 10 of 17 for the season. Billy Pierce was the loser.

Norm Siebern walked a pair of homers and drove in five runs to lead the Athletics to their second straight victory over the Red Sox. Ray Herbert had a seventh hit shutout going into the ninth but faltered in the ninth, yielding two-run homers to Vic Wertz and Frank Malzone. It was his seventh victory in 17 decisions.

State Has 33 Per Square Mile
WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas has 33.8 persons per square mile, about 17 below the national average 1960 census figures show.

The national average, 50.4 according to the Census Bureau, dropped from 1950's 50.7 despite an increase of 28 million in the population. The addition of Alaska, with a population density of 1 person to every 2 1/2 square miles, made the difference, the bureau said yesterday.

The bureau listed Arkansas with a population of 1,772,423 and land area of 52,409 square miles.

New Jersey is the most densely populated state with 800.2 persons per square mile. Rhode Island is second with 798.7. Next to Alaska, Nevada is the least densely populated with 2.6 persons per square mile.

Firm Enjoined From Stock Sale
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—U. S. District Judge Gordon E. Young of Pine Bluff today permanently enjoined the now-bankrupt Arkansas Business Development Corp. and several others from selling ABCD stock.

Individuals named were Alan C. Springer, Ed Worth Millwee and Hubert J. Crouch.

The injunction was made permanent in a final judgment. Young's action finishes litigation in a suit brought against the firm and individuals by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 51

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the State of Arkansas, and by the House of Representatives, a majority of all members elected to each House agreeing thereto:

That the following is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of the electors voting thereon, at such an election, adopt such amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to-wit:

SECTION 1. In addition to the powers granted by constitutional or statutory authority, cities of the first and second class may issue, by and with consent of a majority of the qualified electors of said municipality voting on the question at an election held for the purpose, bonds in sums and for the purposes approved by such majority at such election as follows:

For the payment of any indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment; for the purchase of rights of way for construction of public streets, alleys, boulevards, and expressways, within the corporate limits of such municipality for the purpose, bonds in sums and for the purposes approved by such majority at such election as follows:

For the payment of any indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment; for the purchase of rights of way for construction of public streets, alleys, boulevards, and expressways, within the corporate limits of such municipality for the purpose, bonds in sums and for the purposes approved by such majority at such election as follows:

For the payment of any indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment; for the purchase of rights of way for construction of public streets, alleys, boulevards, and expressways, within the corporate limits of such municipality for the purpose, bonds in sums and for the purposes approved by such majority at such election as follows:

For the payment of any indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment; for the purchase of rights of way for construction of public streets, alleys, boulevards, and expressways, within the corporate limits of such municipality for the purpose, bonds in sums and for the purposes approved by such majority at such election as follows:

For the payment of any indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment; for the purchase of rights of way for construction of public streets, alleys, boulevards, and expressways, within the corporate limits of such municipality for the purpose, bonds in sums and for the purposes approved by such majority at such election as follows:

For the payment of any indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment; for the purchase of rights of way for construction of public streets, alleys, boulevards, and expressways, within the corporate limits of such municipality for the purpose, bonds in sums and for the purposes approved by such majority at such election as follows:

For the payment of any indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment; for the purchase of rights of way for construction of public streets, alleys, boulevards, and expressways, within the corporate limits of such municipality for the purpose, bonds in sums and for the purposes approved by such majority at such election as follows:

For the payment of any indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment; for the purchase of rights of way for construction of public streets, alleys, boulevards, and expressways, within the corporate limits of such municipality for the purpose, bonds in sums and for the purposes approved by such majority at such election as follows:

For the payment of any indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment; for the purchase of rights of way for construction of public streets, alleys, boulevards, and expressways, within the corporate limits of such municipality for the purpose, bonds in sums and for the purposes approved by such majority at such election as follows:

For the payment of any indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment; for the purchase of rights of way for construction of public streets, alleys, boulevards, and expressways, within the corporate limits of such municipality for the purpose, bonds in sums and for the purposes approved by such majority at such election as follows:

ing, or construction of water works or light plants, and distribution systems therefor; and for the purchase of sites for, improving or equipping harbor and river terminal facilities; and for the acquisition, development and construction of other municipal or public facilities and improvements. For the purchase, development and improvement of airports, waterworks, sewage disposal systems or any other municipal facilities which are, wholly or partially, located outside the boundaries of said State.

No bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall bear a greater rate of interest than six per cent per annum payable either annually or semi-annually; that is to say, the cost to the municipality for interest and discount on each issue of bonds shall not exceed six per cent per annum; and no bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall ever be sold except at public sale after twenty days' advertisement in some newspaper having a bona fide circulation in the municipality issuing such bonds.

In order to provide for the payment of the bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment, a special tax in addition to the legal rate permitted may be levied by municipalities on the real and personal taxable property therein. And any municipality issuing any bonds shall before or at the time of doing so, levy a direct tax payable annually sufficient to pay the interest on such bonds as the same matures, and also sufficient to pay and discharge the principal of all such bonds at their respective maturities. The special tax permitted by this amendment shall not be subject to any constitutional limitation; provided, however, the General Assembly may by legislative act limit the rate of such taxation, which limitation shall be effective only upon a special tax levied for the payment of bonds issued after the effective date of such legislative act.

Said bonds shall be serial, maturing annually after three years from date of issue, and shall be paid off as they mature, and no bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be issued for a longer period than forty years.

It shall be the duty of the mayor and city council or other governing body established by law, to exercise supervision over the sale of any bonds, which may be voted by the people at an election held for that purpose and they shall expend economically the funds so provided for the specified purposes for which they were voted.

Said election shall be held at such times as the city council may designate by ordinance, which ordinance shall specifically state the purpose for which the bonds are to be issued, and if more than one purpose, provisions shall be made in said ordinance for balloting on each separate purpose; which ordinance shall state the sum total of the issue, the dates of maturity thereof and shall fix the date of election so that it shall not occur earlier than thirty days after the passage of said ordinance. Said election shall be held and conducted, and the vote thereof canvassed, and the result thereof declared under the law and in the manner now or hereafter provided for municipal elections, so far as the same may be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. Notice of said election shall be given by the mayor by advertisement weekly for at least four times, in some newspaper published in said municipality and having a bona fide circulation therein; the last publication to be not less than ten days prior to the date of said election.

Qualified voters of said municipality only shall have a right to vote at said elections. The result of said election shall be proclaimed by the mayor and the result as proclaimed shall be conclusive unless attacked in the courts within thirty days after the date of such proclamation. This amendment shall not repeal or affect any law relating to the organization of improvement districts.

SECTION 2. In addition to any existing Constitutional or Statutory provisions, and the powers granted under the provisions of this amendment, cities of the first and second class are hereby authorized to levy a tax on the real and personal property located within the corporate limits of five (5) mills on the dollar of the assessed value of such property. That the revenues from such tax may be used for any municipal purpose now or hereafter authorized.

SECTION 3. The General Assembly may by legislative act allow cities of the first and second class to levy additional taxes for any municipal purpose, now or hereafter authorized, and such taxes or the rates thereof shall not be limited by any existing Constitutional provision.

SECTION 4. The salaries of officials and employees of cities of the first and second class shall be fixed by the governing body of such cities, and the amounts of such salaries shall not be limited by any existing Constitutional provision.

SECTION 5. This amendment shall be in force upon its adoption, and shall not require legislative action to put it into force and effect.

All provisions of this amendment whenever, at any annual school election, a majority of the qualified electors of the district voting on the proposition shall approve the rate of tax levied, then taxes shall be collected at the rate so approved. In the event the rate shall not be approved at any such election, then taxes shall be collected at the rate of thirty (30) mills on each dollar of assessed valuation, or at the rate approved at the next preceding annual school election, whichever rate shall be the lower figure. Provided, that no rate of tax levied shall ever be less than the aggregate of the rates of any continuing levies heretofore approved for the purpose of meeting the debt service requirements of the district's issued and outstanding bonds (unless funds for the payment thereof shall have otherwise been specifically provided).

SECTION 7. With respect to each school district, proposals for the issuance of bonds and for the collection of taxes at a continuing rate of levy for the payment thereof may be submitted by the board of directors for the approval or disapproval of the qualified electors voting on the proposition at an annual school election, and upon petition of not less than ten percent of the qualified electors of the district, or by resolution of the board of directors, such proposals may be submitted for the approval or disapproval of the qualified electors voting on any such proposition at a special election called for the purpose by the County Judge. No school district may issue bonds unless a majority
